PACIFIC COAST.

Revised Rates Over the California Central.

SOME DIVORCE OVERSIGHTS.

Thousands of Acres of Railroad "Indemnity Land" to be Opened to Settlement.

[Associated Press Dispatches to the Herald.]

SAN FRANCISCO, September 6.—W. A. Bissell, of the Atlantic and Pacific, received copies of the new passenger tariff for the California Central railroad yesterday. There is a material reduction in the rates to and from the different points in Southern California. Between San Bernardino and Los Angeles the fare will be $1.75; from San Bernardino to Pasadena, $1.55; to Raymond, $1.55; to Garvanzo, $1.65; to North Garvanzo, 50 cents; to Duarte, $1.20, and to Santa Anita, $1.35. The new rate of $1.75 applies between Los Angeles and Colton. This gives a new rate of $22.75, first-class between San Diego and San Francisco; $19.75 emigrant.

DIVORCE DECREES.

Serious Oversight by Contestants in Many Cases.

SAN FRANCISCO, September 6.—The examination of the records of the Courts in this city for some twenty-five years proves that in something like a thousand cases where the Court has granted a divorce and a minute order made, no decree has been signed by the Judge and no judgment entered. The persons interested doubtless believe that all that was necessary was for the Court to answer orally from the bench "divorce granted on grounds," etc., and the matrimonial bonds were dissolved in law. This is only a preliminary and the law requires the decree to be signed by the Judge granting the divorce and that this decree be entered upon the docket before the proceedings are complete.

AN IMPORTANT QUESTION.

In how many of the thousand incomplete records referred to, parties have again married who were not legally entitled to do so, is a question almost impossible of solution, but there are doubtless very many such cases. A title to a valuable piece of property in this city is now in question, because of the incompleness of divorce proceedings instituted many years ago.

RESTORED TO SETTLEMENT.

Thousands of Acres of Railroad Land Thrown Open.

SAN FRANCISCO, September 6.—All the indemnity land in this land district claimed by the Southern Pacific Railroad Company will be restored to the public domain and opened to entry on October 8th. The whole amount as restored is several thousand acres, and is situated principally in Monterey, San Luis Obispo and San Benito counties. Some of the land is very valuable. It lies not less than twenty and not more than thirty miles from the railroad.

THE RAILROAD'S LIMITS.

The law gave the Southern Pacific Railroad Company all the odd-numbered sections within a distance of twenty miles on both sides of the railroad. To make up for the portions of land that had previously been taken by settlers the company was allowed to select an equivalent amount from a belt of land lying between twenty and thirty miles from the road.

HITHERTO WITHHELD.

This strip of land is known as the "indemnity belt," and has hitherto been withheld from settlement. The sections of indemnity land chosen by the railroad company and approved by the General Land Office are known as "approved selections." The San Francisco Land Office has received from the General Land Office at Washington a communication regarding these indemnity lands, giving full instructions as to entry.

MORROW'S REPLY.

He Flatly Denies the Charges Preferred by Davis.

An action was filed by the latter to recover $1000 balance alleged to be due for services rendered to him in watching jury-fixing matters. In answer defendant denies that the plaintiff ever performed any labor at his request, that such services were worth $1300 or that he owes him $1300 or any other sum.

The Triumphant last left this port for Liverpool direct, on January 18th, laden with wheat.

Heavy Rains.

SAN FRANCISCO, September 6.—Quite a rain fell here this morning. It is said to be the heaviest for several years at this season. It is still cloudy and likely to rain again. At Healdsburg fifty-two hundredths of an inch of rain fell during the day. It is now clear. No material harm was done.

A Big Blaze.

SACRAMENTO, September 6.—The hop-house of Lovedel Bros., five miles above Sacramento, was destroyed by fire this morning. Loss, $30,000; insured for $11,000.

PATENT OFFICE STATISTICS.

List of the California Attendants at the Medical Congress at Washington.

Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD.

NEW YORK, September 6.—W. N. Cromwell, assignee of Henry Ives & Co., has made his report to the Superior Court. The liabilities are placed at $17,666,170. nominal assets $26,664,200 and actual assets $11,122,000. The sum secured to creditors on the loan account amounts to $5,402,200, secured to creditors on bills payable, $1,673,800.

The liabilities on stocks loaned amount to $1,010,030; to unsecured creditors $9,580,100.

ALL PAPER SECURITY.

The assignee says that the property is composed almost entirely of stocks, bonds and bills receivable of various corporations, and that the value of the securities is largely depressed, because of the uncertainty as to where the control of companies will finally lodge. This accounts for the differences in the schedule between the nominal and actual value.

WORTH ABOUT $400,000.

It is claimed by those who have studied Cromwell's figures that the actual assets, including only firms equities in hypothecated securities, is only about $400,000.

For this reason it would probably be more satisfactory if the address of Professor Sommola, assigned for to-day, be postponed until to-morrow.

PRESIDENTIAL PARLEY.

Satire on Political Friendship. The Railroad Commission.

NEW YORK, September 6.—The World will publish to-morrow over the signature of Ballard Smith, the result of an interview with President Cleveland held at Oak View last week regarding Civil Service matters. The President said: "If the disappointment rising from my inability to name for office all those recommended by near, personal and political friends were a sufficient cause for alienation, those who wish me well would be very few to-day."

CONCERNING THE COMMISSION.

In a subsequent conversation the President said that the composition of the Pacific Railway Commission had been a matter of unusual thought and consideration with him, and in view of the valuable information obtained he was glad the question decided by Justice Field against the Commission had not been raised earlier. Their dispatch recommending the employment of additional counsel had been answered immediately and full power given them. Why such counsel had not been employed he had not been informed, but he understood that a reasonable adjournment to examine into the law had been expended.

FOUR PER CENT.

Doleful Prospects for Harper's Creditors.

CINCINNATI, September 6.—From a report of the trustees of E. L. Harper & Co., it appears that the firm held no real estate, and that the face value of the assets, consisting of stock, bonds, notes, cash, etc., was $136,000, while the appraised value was $8600. The assets were book accounts of the face value of $1,171,000, and an appraised value of $103,200. The total direct liabilities are $1,462,750, and indirect liabilities as endorsers $1,792,000.

A BIG BILL.

Among the debts is one of $359,900 from E. L. Harper, and it appears that this firm indorsed for Harper and other firms. The firm of E. L. Harper & Co. was an iron commission firm. The showing would give creditors about four per cent. on their claims.

Mrs. Cleveland's Reasons for Declining An Invitation.

NEW YORK, September 6.—A letter has been received by the Mayor and Board of Aldermen from Mrs. Cleveland, in which she declines the invitation to make the presentation of flags to the Fire Department. GENERAL NEWS.

Bartlett's Death Expected at any Moment.

RESTLESS AND DELIRIOUS.

An Outbreak Probable Among the Blackfeet Indians—Notes From Hawaii.

Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD.

SAN FRANCISCO, September 6.—The following bulletin was issued at noon by the Governor's physicians:

"There has been no material change in Governor Bartlett's condition. He answers intelligently when spoken to, but wanders when left quiet."

MEDICAL OPINION.

A number of prominent physicians, including Drs. Murray, Black and McNutt, were interviewed this morning in regard to their opinion of Governor Bartlett's condition. All said that the bulletins which have been issued are vague, uncertain and unintelligible, and nothing could be learned from them. They believed he was suffering from organic diseases, and his life could be prolonged but a short time. No bulletin has been issued by the Governor's physicians since this morning.

MUCH WORSE.

Governor Bartlett has been much worse to-day, and the latest reports show that he is gradually sinking and it is believed cannot live twelve hours longer.

OFFICIAL BULLETIN—BAD NEWS.

Dr. Buckel issued the following bulletin at 8 this evening; There is no change for the better in the Governor's condition. He sleeps quietly most of the time but arouses occasionally and answers when spoken to. He frequently calls for water but chokes when attempting to swallow. Temperature 101.05, pulse 108, respiration 26.

THE END APPROACHES.

The following is the latest official bulletin issued by Governor Bartlett's physicians: There is no change for the better in the Governor's condition. He still sleeps most of the time, but rouses occasionally. At 9:15 he saw his brother and sister, and held out his hand to them, but did not speak anything to them. He does not seem to be suffering any pain. Pulse 96, temperature 100.6, respiration 36.

LATEST—A STATE OF STUPOR.

Governor Bartlett is still restless and delirious. The stupor is gradually growing worse and the patient has to be continually aroused. The fever has partially left him and he is unable to drink water without coughing. Temperature, 99 4-5; pulse, 97; respiration, 36. No more definite information can be learned.

TRIBAL TROUBLE.

Probable Uprising of the Blackfeet Indians.

BUTTE, Mont., September 6.—A special to the Miner from Calgary, N. W. T., says: Trouble is feared among the Blackfeet Indians. About ten days ago an Indian was shot at by a white soldier for some trifling cause and seriously hurt. His tribe were much incensed, and at one time it was thought that they would attack the assailant. After a few days the wounded Indian died and the news was sent through all the tribes.

A REFUGEE FROM JUSTICE.

Simultaneously another Indian named Deerfoot escaped from jail here and reached the reservation. The police demanded his return, but the young braves refused to divulge his hiding place.

TROOPS DESPATCHED.

Consequently on the morrow two large detachments of mounted police will proceed to the reservation from here and Fort McLeod and effect Deerfoot's capture. Another force has been detached from Regina as a reserve. With the present excited state of feeling among the Indians serious trouble is anticipated. The Blackfeet form the most powerful tribe in the northwest.

THE HAWAIIAN ISLANDS.

Extensive Preparations for Monday's Elections.

SAN FRANCISCO, September 6.—The steamship Australia arrived from Honolulu this afternoon, leaving there on August 30th. The political situation on the Island remains unchanged. Active preparations are going forward for the election which occurs on September 12th. The complete success of the New Constitutional party is declared to be assured.

ARRIVAL OF THE VANDALIA.

The United States man-of-war Vandalia, a flag ship of the Pacific squadron, arrived at Honolulu August 26, having been 37 days in making the journey from Callao.

CABLE LINE PROPOSED.

A proposition will be laid before the next Legislature for the construction of an ocean cable connecting the Hawaiian group of islands.

COMMERCIAL CIRCLES QUIET.

Business is reported very dull in Honolulu, but a revival of industry is anticipated after the coming elections.

AN EDITORIAL ON THE SITUATION.

The Honolulu Daily Bulletin in commenting upon the political canvass, says: "There never was a period in this country's brief history when respectable citizens felt less free to express their independent thoughts than at the present time. If a man dares to utter a moderate opinion or an opinion in any way adverse to the extreme notions of the narrow faction, which is guided more by blind impulse than calculating reason, he is at once reported." It is intimated that the military power proposes to control affairs on the Island at any cost.

Death of a Railroad Man.

SAN FRANCISCO, September 6.—Charles Macabe, General Passenger Agent of the Chicago and Alton Road for this coast, died here this morning, of consumption.

CHINESE CENTO.

Newspaper Comments Regarding the Recent Concessions.

SAN FRANCISCO, September 6.—Newspapers from China received by the steamer Parthia, of the Canadian Pacific line to Victoria, B. C., make numerous references to the concessions recently granted to Count Mitkiwiez and the Chinese-American syndicate which he represents.

EPITOME OF THE CONTENTS.

The Hongkong Mail, of August 8, says: "We have very good authority for stating that negotiations are practically closed as far as the Chinese government is concerned and the signing of the papers in Washington is only formal. A new imperial amalgamated bank is to be started unless something very unexpected happens within the next six months. The capital will not, at all events, at first be so large as has been rumored, but will be from 25,000 to 50,000 taels; but there is ample power given under the statutes to increase the amount to whatever figure may be rendered necessary by the progress of events.

TELEGRAPHS AND RAILROADS.

The various telegraph lines in China will be immediately amalgamated under one administration, that of the bank, and a new telephone system will be very fully developed. The first railway to be undertaken will be from Peking to Canton as we stated some weeks ago with a branch line from the Capital to Tientsen. The concessions granted to the syndicate extend over fifty years.

"CAPTURE OF CHINA."

Under the editorial heading of "Capture of China," the Chinese Times denounces the policy of granting such valuable franchises to foreigners. It says: "The unfolding of this remarkable compact will make life in China interesting for the next two years whether the Taotais or not have conspired to sell their country with the connivance of their superiors as some of them did the Chinese merchants' steamers three years ago."

WHO HAS THE BEST OF IT?

Whether they have sold the too confiding Philadelphians or have placed their own heads figuratively speaking on the block, are all questions which may be expected to work themselves out by degrees, affording in process a pabulum for readers of newspapers and food for reflection to those who moralize on national evolution.

TWO VIEWS TO BE TAKEN.

There are two ways of looking at the transaction. In one it is a liberal offering to certain Chinese, enough to turn their heads, while in another it is a smart stroke of finance on the part of the American syndicate, quite independently of the valuable concessions which it has purchased.

WASHINGTON, September 6.—About one hundred new pensioners were placed on the list one day last week.

THEATRE TRAGEDY.

Horrible Scenes at the Burned Building.

WHOLE FAMILIES PERISHED.

Faulty Construction of the Gallery Staircase—Escape was Impossible.

[Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD.]

LONDON, September 6.—The victims by the burning of the Theater Royal, Exeter, were mostly working people. As soon as the flames were put out a large force began searching for bodies. The stairway leading to the gallery was literally packed with bodies while at the head of the stairs there were scores of others piled one on top of another. The unfortunate victims had rushed to the door when the alarm was given, but found the stairway blocked and ESCAPE CUT OFF.

In a short time the flames had reached them and they suffered a horrible death. There were pitiful scenes in the vicinity of the theater this morning, as the friends and relations of the supposed victims waited the recovery of the bodies.

BOTH PARENTS GONE.

In many cases fathers and mothers both perished, and numerous children are thus left without means of support. Several bodies were burned so that only a small cinder remained. The number of persons severely injured is 60. It is feared the number of deaths will reach 140.

ABOUT 200 IN THE GALLERY.

The Evening Standard has ascertained that there were 200 persons occupying seats in the gallery and of these 100 lost their lives. It is very probable that the total number of deaths will never be ascertained owing to the fact that many bodies were completely calcined.

IDENTIFICATION IMPOSSIBLE.

Two stalls of stables belonging to the hotel adjoining are filled with remains that it is impossible to identify. Most of the killed were adults and chiefly men and but few children perished. More bodies have been taken from the ruins. The charred remains of twenty persons were discovered in one heap.

MOTHER, FATHER AND CHILD

Were found clapsed in one embrace. In nearly every case clothing has been torn off the victims. From many of the bodies limbs were missing, and the remains showed evidence that they had been wrenched off. Several whole families, numbering from two to five persons lost their lives.

WHY THEY PERISHED.

The construction of the gallery staircase accounts for the great loss of life. Half-way down the flight there was a sharp angle. The first persons who left the gallery got past safely, but several of those who followed were thrown down and jammed into the angle, and were unable to extricate themselves owing to the pressure from behind. The staircase, at this place, was effectually blocked, and there was no other way of escape.

AN EMPLOYE'S STORY.

A scene-shifter says that the fire started among some gauze, which became ignited, and the flames spread to the scenes, of which the stage was unusually full, owing to the preparations for the production of a pantomime. The audience numbered 800 persons.

A FORMAL INQUEST.

The inquest over the victims was begun to-day, but it was impossible to identify many of the bodies, and the jury simply viewed the remains. A public funeral will be held to-morrow.

PARLIAMENTARY COMMENT.

In the House of Commons to-day, Mr. Matthews, Home Secretary, said that the calamity at Exeter showed the necessity of legislation in the matter, and that the Government intended to deal with the subject.

EDITORIAL OPINIONS.

The Standard says that the similarity between the Exeter theater fire and previous disasters suggests the culpable disregard of the teachings of experience.

The News says that one effect of this awful disaster will be a general law governing the construction and management of public places throughout the kingdom. After this accident and that of the Opera Comique in Paris we ought surely to require no more warning.

SUGGESTIVR FIGURES.

Grand Increase in Wealth in Los Angeles.

EDITORS HERALD:—In a recent issue of the New York Star is to be found a tabular statement of the assessed value of property, real and personal, in each of the 60 counties of the State of New York. It is a fact worthy of more than passing note that in that great State, with its nearly three centuries of financial accretions, there are only four counties having an assessed valuation greater than Los Angeles County. The four counties are Albany, Erie, Kings and New York. And what seems really more strange is the fact that only four counties in the State have an assessed valuation more than half as great as Los Angeles. These counties are Onondaga, Rensaeller, Westchester and Oneida. As above intimated, the assessments in New York represent the accretions of three centuries of commercial, manufacturing and agricultural industry. It may be added that, with the exception of Dutchess, Ontario and Orange Counties, all of the rest of the 60 counties of the Empire State, save the eight counties first above mentioned, lay far behind the splendid showing which Los Angeles County makes in 1887.

And, in this connection, it is also to be taken into consideration that, practically, the vast accumulation of wealth which the assessment roll of the county represents, is the work of less than twenty years, since in 1867 the assessment roll of Los Angeles city and county was returned as amounting to $2,556,033, while in this year of Grace, 1887, the assessment roll foots up $99,000,000. Los Angeles city and county may well be proud of this record, especially when it is borne in mind that the figures last quoted represent not more than 60 per cent. of the actual valuation of her real and personal property at the time the Assessor's rolls were handed in, and several months' additional increase of capital and valuation of lands are to be added thereto.

If this sort of thing is to keep on, and there seems no prospect of an end thereto, the working out of a sum in proportion, something like this for instance, if Albany county in New York created $100,000,000 worth of property, say in two centuries, and Los Angeles county, in California, nearly the same amount in twenty years, how far ahead of Albany county, N. Y., will Los Angeles county be in the next twenty years at the same proportionate rate of increase, comparing the one with the other? The result is calculated to stagger a common cypherer.

AN OLD-TIME ANGELENO.

Salem, Oregon, September 3, 1887.

The Vintage.

The vintage of 1887 is now fairly open, and grape crushing on the high mesas is actively progressing. The price of grapes is ranging from $12 to $15 per ton. The lower price being for Mission and Zinfandel and the medium price for Muscat to be used for the manufacture of brandy. The yield in the San Gabriel Valley is a fair crop, but the amount of saccharine matter is less than usual, owing to the low temperature of July and August.

This fact will cause an increase in the production of dry wines and a decrease in that of port, sherry and brandy.

Mr. A. Brigden, the manager of the Sierra Madre Vintage Company, was in the city yesterday on a business visit from Lamanda Park, where the great works of this company are located. He commenced on Monday, September 5th, to crush the new crop, beginning on Zinfandels and other early varieties. This company will crush the grapes of the vineyards of Hon. J. F. Crank and Mr. Brigden. Their vineyards probably produce about 300,000 gallons of wine. The company will not make much brandy as the profit on wine is better than on brandy, and more important still the uncertainity of the action of Congress in regard to the internal revenue tax on brandy, makes the managers cautious. As a consequence there will be less brandy made this year than usual and more wine.

The Sunny Slope Company is buying all the high mesa grapes at the prices named. The manager, Hon. L. J. Rose, knows the value of the grapes on the lofty mesas and has purchased all the crops near the mountains. His company can crush 400,000 pounds daily. The grapes are ripening rather unevenly this year, and this condition of the crop will necessitate the picking of a crop of early ripe clusters in September and a later picking in October. This feature of the crop while it may have its disadvantages will result in extending the harvest season for some time, so that all may be gathered without danger of decay on the vines that might have been occasioned by a simultaneous ripening of the crop.

The San Gabriel Valley will this year produce about three million gallons of wine of a very superior quality. The variety of grapes is this year greater than ever before, and the blending of wines is better understood now than ever before in the history of wine making in California. The wine-making industry in Los Angeles county is now on a solid foundation and very rewarding. It furnishes a steady current of money into this section through all the year and is one of the chief sources of the prosperity of the land.

The "Vets."

The delegates of the Society of exempt Firemen of Los Angeles, about twenty strong, consisting of Jac Kuhrts, Walter S. Moore, J. R. Brierly, J. C. McMenomy and others, will leave for Sacramento on Monday next to meet the veteran firemen of New York who are to visit California next week. The visitors will be entertained in a royal manner by the fire department of Sacramento, after which the "Vets" will visit San Francisco, where a grand reception awaits them, gotten up in the lavish manner for which San Francisco is famous all around the world.

The Los Angeles delegation will endeavor to have the New York "Vets." return via Los Angeles, unless they have previously selected the northern route. It is hoped that these gentlemen will come this way. The HERALD will inform the public of the movements of this important band of excursionists from the metropolis of the Atlantic States.

Those Complaining of Sore Throat Hoarseness, or "taking cold," should use BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES. The effect is extraordinary, particularly when used by singers and speakers for clearing the voice.

The fourth annual meeting of the Savings Fund and Building Society of Los Angeles was held last evening. The following gentlemen were elected as Directors for the coming year: M. L. Wicks, Louis Roeder, J. F. Holbrook, E. H. Grasett, John Horner, S. P. Rees, H. Z. Osborne and John M. Davies. The Directors held a meeting at the close of the annual meeting and elected the following gentlemen as executive officers: M. L. Wicks, President; J. F. Holbrook, Vice-President; Louis Roeder, Treasurer; E. H. Grassett, Secretary.

The following committees were elected:

Committee on Securities—Louis Roeder, E. H. Grassett, John M. Davies.

This society is in a flourishing condition as may be judged from a synopsis of the annual report herewith appended. Over three hundred shares in the fifth series have already been taken and no better investment can be made by any resident of the city or county.

LAND FOR PONIES.

A Pleasing Incident With a Moral Attached.

During the year 1873 Mr. John G. Capron, of San Diego, came to Los Angeles with a pair of very beautiful little ponies, which he offered to sell to Mr. J. G. Estudillo. At that time horseflesh was not in much demand, and Mr. Estudillo refused to purchase. His little son Georgie was standing by, and conceived an affection for the ponies, and begged his father to buy them for him. It happened that Georgie's godfather had presented him with some eighty acres of land near San Gabriel, worth at that time about 50 cents per acre. When Mr. Estudillo refused to buy the ponies, Georgie told Mr. Capron that he would trade a portion of his real estate for the little animals. Mr. Capron agreed, and swapped the ponies for twenty acres of Georgie's land. About four years ago Mr. Capron wrote to Georgie's father, saying that the property was worth $50 per acre. The youngster was consulted, and said that he would hold on to his portion of the eighty acres until he became of age. Mr. Capron accepted the boy's judgment, and decided to call for no division of the property. Some days ago George became of age, and yesterday he deeded twenty acres of his property to Mr. Capron. The surprising thing about this transaction is that the land which was worth fifty cents per acre in 1873, is now held at $800 per acre. There was no written agreement entered into, but George thinks he had sufficient fun with the ponies and is perfectly willing to stand up to his contract. Mr. J. G. Estudillo yesterday wrote out the deed, which his son signed, and it was forwarded to Mr. Capron at San Diego. In view of the fact that so many people in this day construe real estate contracts strictly this case stands out as an example of what honorable people will do.

Marriage Licenses.

The following named persons were yesterday licensed to wed: W. T. Farris to A. E. Foster, F. W. Putnam to Rose Osborne, E. J. Cameron to V. Bossi, G. A. White to W. E. Pittman, Manuel Ybarra to Lucy Feurins.

PASADENA FOR ST. LOUIS.

A Liberal Response for the Coming Exhibition.

An enthusiastic meeting was held yesterday afternoon at Pasadena to consider the proper means for securing a representation at the St. Louis fair, under the auspices of the G. A. R., and to raise money to carry out such representation.

Col. Banbury was chosen president of the meeting and a set of resolute committees was appointed to secure money and exhibits for this great national exhibition. The sense of the meeting was to raise $5000, to be used in making a proper and elaborate display from South California. The proposition was received with satisfaction by the audience, and the sum pledged in a few minutes, of which $2275 in cash was paid on the spot.

For spontaniety and liberality this meeting exceeds all that have been heretofore held in forwarding this great movement. If other towns will do as well as Pasadena there will be a display that has never yet been equaled of California products on the other side of the mountains.

Admission Day.

The grand excursion to-morrow to San Diego will leave the Santa Fe depot on First street promptly at 9:05 A. M. The low fare of $5.25 for the round trip has attracted many excursionists and insures a large crowd. The Native Sons are using every endeavor to provide for the comfort of all excursionists. A committee from San Diego will meet the excursion train at Oceanside and assign each one his quarters. The Board of Trade, Produce Exchange, Society of Pioneers, General Miles' staff, General Mathews and many prominent citizens have accepted invitations to participate in the excursion and celebration. San Diego is enthusiastic over the celebration and a good time will be had by all. A grand steamer excursion to Ensenada, Lower California, will be one of the features of the celebration. Hon. S. M. White is the orator of the day and will deliver the oration.

Gamblers Arrested.

It will be remembered that some time since an elderly German was swindled out of $400 at a shell game at Santa Monica and that the money was recovered from the gamblers. Under Sheriff Mitchell determined that the gamblers and swindlers should not escape without at least an examination and therefore telegraphed to Sheriff Russell, of San Diego, who arrested J. A. Brown and J. M. Ling. Deputy Sheriff Cooney went to San Diego after the men and returned yesterday afternoon with his prisoners.

Not Insane.

Mrs. J. Downs was examined before Judge Gardner yesterday morning for insanity, and was released from custody, the evidence failing to prove that she was insane in any degree. Mrs. Downs is the mother of seven children, three of whom accompanied her to the courtroom.

Mrs. Maria de Ruiz was also examined for insanity, and found to be laboring under no delusion which would warrant her being sent to Stockton.

To All Concerned.

The contractor, Mr. Burlingame, who is at work on the massive levee along the water front of the Seitz Tract, is under bonds to have the work completed by November the 15th next. Those wishing to secure lots cheap had better buy before that time, as the prices are then bound to advance. Russell, Cox & Co., 132 West First street.

How sad to see one gifted with youth and beauty, a pleasant home, surrounded by loving friends, and everything that makes life desirable and enjoyable, fading away day by day, with no hope of release save in death. It was only a slight cold at first. A single dose of Frese's Hamburg Tea would have removed the obstruction, restored the circulation, and given back to society one of its brightest ornaments.

WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 7, 1887.

A Sorry Outlook.

The condition of Governor Bartlett has caused the greatest solicitude to the people of this State for several weeks. There have been gleams of hope at times, but since the relapse of last Sunday week his case has presented no favorable features. Indeed, with very slight occasional rallies, he has been constantly sinking, and it now appears that the end is gradually but surely approaching. The death of Governor Bartlett at this early stage in his term will prove a public calamity. His executive faculties were of the highest order, and had he been spared to serve out his term, he would have given the State a most satisfactory administration. As it is, his demise will inevitably lead to serious difficulties. Even were his successor a Democrat the way of the incumbent would not be strewn with roses; for an Executive who reaches the office by accident instead of by election, must always encounter complications and difficulties that are greatly modified in the experiences of elected Governors. But these complications will be immensely aggravated in the case of Mr. Waterman, for death really robs the Democratic party of its triumph and snatches from it the political power it had won at the polls. It wipes out the solid advantages of victory and gives them over to the enemy. Not only this, but it turns a Democratic government into a mixed government, bereft of all the elements of cohesion and harmony, and places the State under the rule of a set of high officers who will inevitably work at cross purposes. With a Republican Governor and a Democratic Secretary of State, Attorney-General, Controller and Treasurer, there can hardly be plain-sailing. Difficulties are inevitable. Complications must arise. Harmony, outside of mere routine business, cannot be looked for. In all questions of State polity there will be frictions and antagonisms, and we shall be fortunate if actual conflicts of authority do not take place. Beyond these there are other features of the situation which render it deplorable. The Lieutenant-Governor has had no experience in public life; knows little or nothing of public affairs; possesses none of the elements of a statesman; nor has he the aptitudes that would turn a plain, common-sense man into a good, common-sense Governor. He is strong-headed, suspicious, impatient of advice, and egotistical. We believe, from a slight knowledge of his character, that he would be impervious to wise counsel and inaccessible to any advice that did not gibe with his own crude notions. If he gets into the wrong groove, he will persist in it, for his nature is stubborn. His self-will and egotism may work great harm, and we look forward to his administration as a repetition of that of John McDougal, which would have been altogether disastrous of Governor McDougal had not been a man of education and experience.

The Needs of A Metropolis.

Los Angeles City has sprung at one bound from a little municipality of about 10,000 at the beginning of this decade, to a metropolitan city of nearly three-fourths of a hundred thousand, while there is still a space of more than two years before that term of years is ended. She is metropolitan in her population, and she is rapidly taking on all the outward signs and belongings of such a city. The rate of growth and progress ruling for the past seven years is not only maintained in full force, but it is even being added to by a considerable ratio with each passing month. All signs at the present time point to a continuance of this for an indefinite future period, with no abatement of any sort. These are facts which call for a readjustment of affairs in many lines. It matters not in a small village of widely separated habitations how a man erects the chimney in his cottage, or how he fits the stovepipe to the hole in the roof where a chimney is dispensed with. Each man may be entrusted with the building of his little home, and the close attention of a fire marshal is not an exigent matter. A village can get along quite comfortably without sewers, or streets or sidewalks. But when a city gathers a population of approximating 100,000 souls, a change is demanded. While the village streets may safely be made a corral for all the horses in the neighborhood to stand along them all day, and every day in the week, a city is usually the center of too large a population, within and without her gates to make such a use of the streets desirable, either on the ground of comfort or of safety.

It is pleasant to know that steps are being taken by the city authorities to work a prompt and radical change in many respects. There have, of course, long been ordinances and means of enforcing them looking to regulating some of these matters. These have answered more or less perfectly in the past, but the rapid development of all things in Los Angeles calls in no uncertain tone for further improvements in many respects. Our City Attorney is taking great pains to formulate these needs of the city in the best way. One of the proposed changes will serve as an illustration of what is looked to. This is to obtain an office, the walls of which shall be hung with three series of maps of the city. One set shall show all the streets of the municipality as they exist; and the graded streets will be distinguished from those not so improved by coloring. The second set will show in profile all the grades of all the streets, with the contour of the lots adjoining in each block. The third set is to show the sewer system of the city.

It is estimated that the expense of running this office will be to the city all told about $6,000 per annum. This contemplates a supervisor of buildings, who shall see that all new edifices of all sorts shall be put up according to the ordinances; also, the appointment of a sanitary plumber, whose duty it shall be to see that all the water-works in a building, the waste-pipes for kitchens and bathtubs and their connections with the sewers shall be in accordance with the best known principles of sanitary engineering. There will be besides these a clerk of the Board of Public Works, who will be in the office at all hours to answer questions and attend to the wants of citizens.

And, by the way, some time ago an ordinance was introduced into the Council looking to the employment of a sanitary plumber to superintend the erection of new buildings. It was referred to the Board of Health, and has not since been heard of. A report on this head would be of interest to the public. There are very many people who do not understand the principles of sanitation. A great many buildings are put up without the advice of an architect. It is of great importance that the plumbing of buildings should be properly done. This concerns the entire population, for if an epidemic breaks out in one house it is hard to say where it will stop.

This new order of things cannot be effected without some expense; but here is where wisdom begins and foolishness ends. It is cheaper to do work under a system than to do it in any happy-go-luck absence of method. System is always in the line of economy. Then there is the health of the city to consider, besides the safety of life and limb in case of a fire or falling buildings. Expenditure at the right point and in the proper way is economy.

WITHIN the past two months there have been terrible catastrophes in theatres. It has never been definitely ascertained how many lives were lost in the burning of the Théâtre Comique, in Paris; but over one hundred crisped and distorted bodies were taken out of the ruins of the building. The burning of the Exeter Theatre in England night before last will probably prove as fatal as that of the Paris theatre. It is now believed that over one hundred victims perished in the catastrophe. It seems that there was only one exit from the gallery, and the crush was so great to get out of this insufficient vomitory that many were trampled to death. The most singular feature of this Exeter tragedy is the fact that the theatre was a new building, and erected, as is said, upon modern plans. How the architect, or the projectors of the structure, could have built a modern theatre without providing the ample exits for every part of the house which modern architecture so imperatively demands, is beyond comprehension. Sad experience all over the world has forced builders to respect public safety, and the first object of architects now in drawing plans for structures where great crowds of people are to assemble, is to provide ample exits for times of peril.

IT is hard to keep half track of the developments of a city like Los Angeles is in the present day and hour. Difficulties of no mean order beset people because of such rapid growth as we are now experiencing. The city authorities are just now making considerable efforts and spending a good deal of cash in several lines of supposed necessary improvement. One of these is in providing water ditches for some of the more remote precincts. This is all very well, were it not the probability is extreme that this is money thrown away in many cases. The first head of water for irrigation purposes will hardly have passed through these zanjas when the land they reach will be cut up into building lots and then good-bye your ditch and the money it cost. It is much easier to point out these difficulties than it is to find the proper way out of them. But in the case in point the suggestion is natural that some system be devised so that these conduits, when they cease to be useful for the primary intention, may be turned into storm-water conduits of permanent value. The matter is at least worthy of earnest consideration.

THE San Francisco Bulletin says; "The wool market is reported weak and dull, but Democratic Congressmen are preparing to urge a great reduction in the duties on foreign wools. These tariff doctors must believe that "like cures like"—a principle that won't hold in political economy." Our contemporary has a way of hurling boomerangs which

"Return to plague the inventor."

If the Bulletin does not know, the average sheepherder does know that it was a Republican Congress which took the protective tariff off of wool in the interest of New England monopolies.

AN exchange remarks: "The value of all the real and personal property of the State has been increased by the action of the local Assessors from $768,395,600 to $899,378,713, a jump in a single year of $130,983,113. The general supposition was that the Board of Equalization this year would consider it to be its duty rather to prune the too great luxuriance in values than to inflate." Be it noted in this connection that the increase in Los Angeles county is $57,000,000 out of the total $130,000,000 raise for the fifty-two counties of the state. That is, of the total increase for the great State of California this one county is taxed forty per cent of it, by the ill-advised course of our local official.

NEWS comes over the wire that some ten thousand of the colored people of the state of North Carolina are preparing for a higera to the Pacific coast. From other parts of the South similar reports reach here from time to time. It is also noted that the press of the South is in some instances sounding a note of warning to the effect that those who may be induced to join in this movement will find disappointment at its end. These people are told that they will find a like experience as that which awaited the colored people who went to Kansas some years ago. This is incorrect in all respects. There is plenty of room and work, with good pay, in California for five times the number named of those people. It is, of course, understood that those coming shall be willing to work, and know how to do farm work. For such there is a welcome, and no unpleasant experience should be found to await them at any stage in the proceedings.

Raise Fruit and be Happy.

The most independent people in the State are the fruit-growers. Their incomes are steady and reliable. Cheap fruit lands, equal to the best, can yet be had at our very doors. The lovely Santa Clara valley, Ventura county, is unsurpassed for soil, climate, pure mountain water and romantic scenery. Within two hours and fifteen minutes ride of Los Angeles on the Southern Pacific railroad. The Sespe Land and Water Company here offer smaller or larger tracts of land at very low prices and on terms so easy as to be within the reach of everybody. Call at the company's office, Baker Block, 242 North Main street, for maps, etc. Sales commence Thursday, September 1st, at 9 A. M.

Our Great Young Horses.

Too early in the season yet to write authoritatively. The Circuit has barely commenced, and yet so many have distinguished themselves that they are worthy of a high place in the equine temple of fame. Nothing sensational, perhaps, but performances worthy of more than a mere description of the races.

It is difficult to award the first place, although, so far, by the standard of races actually won, Alfred S. has the premiership. Stamboul, Lot Slocum, Menlo, Lillie Stanley, Jane L. and others have obtained a commanding position.

Of those mentioned Alfred S. is the only one which has commenced his career with this year, A. D. 1887. He has won every race he has started in, and that so easily that none of them gave a measure of his capacity. The only race we have had the pleasure of seeing him trot was at San Jose, and there was not a line in that to indicate what he could do. An unfavorable start did not make any difference. Two lengths the "worst of it" was made up before 100 yards were gone over, and he would trot steadily, ever so far behind, and lead at the critical moment. That critical one hundredth part of a second when the horses go "under the wire," and Alfred S. has been there first every time in all of his races. It may not be out of place to say that his breeder, H. W. Seale, of Mayfield, has bred many colts that, with proper tuition, might have approached—perhaps excelled—this best son out of Elmo. We call him, then, the best son, as Overman did not show so much with the same amount of "handling." He has yet to get in the "teens," though in all probability it is only when put to the test.

Menlo is unquestionably a wonderful horse. We write wonderful, knowing how many horses and men who have been pronounced wonderful which afterwards were proven so little worthy of the application. When he trotted in 2:21½, two years ago, that was thought wonderful. It was good, and now there are people who say that he has not come up their expectations.

Two minutes, two twenty-one and a half seconds is assuredly good for a five-year-old, but few people are aware that to reduce this record is a troublesome affair. So troublesome that trainers of intelligence are more bothered with quarters of seconds beneath that mark than whole handfuls of the sixtieth part of a minute above it. He was only beaten in the fastest heat by so short a margin that the time was virtually his.

We feel pleasure in congratulating his owner, Mr. Dwyer, on the possession of so good a horse.

Lot Slocum has surely done well. How much better is within his capacity can only be known to his managers. He won at St. Jose in straight heats, all in the even time of 2:20. He was within his speed at all points of the race. At Petaluma this week he won again in unbroken heats, trotting in 2:18¾, 2:19¼, 2:20¼. We did not see the race, but people who were present tell us it was a repetition of the San Jose affair, Slocum winning, to all appearances, as he pleased. The limit of his ability has not been reached, and a meeting between him and Arab later in the year will be an event worth going miles to see.

Stamboul redeems the promise of his four-year-old year, when he made a record of 2:23, by scoring 2:19¾ in his first race of the season. Another great five-year-old, the first son of Sultan to enter the 2:20 list. Fast, game, resolute, he is likely to achieve greater things before the year goes out. We have often had occasion to congratulate the genial and estimable owner of Sunny Slope over his success. We salute him now with even more heartiness, if possible, than ever before.

The triumphs of Jane L. are pleasing, both on account of her merits as a trotter and the deservings of the quiet gentlemen who owns and drives her. He is a long way from home, and perhaps has to battle against combinations that are always present when an important race is up; but speed, stamina and perserverance have given Mr. Lindsay and his mare a fair share of the spoils.—[Breeder and Sportsman.

Don't Laugh at Nervous People.

Their sufferings are very real, although you, with your vigorous physique and strong nerves, can scarcely believe it. Rather suggest the use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters which, in removing every trace of dyspepsia, and regulating the liver and bowels, strikes at and extirpates the most prolific cause of chronic nervous trouble. That nerve-shattering disease, fever and ague, is among the formidable ailments, to the removal of which this genial remedy is specially adapted. Nervous prostration, resulting from prolonged mental or physical effort, is also a state of the system where the intervention of this tonic is very desirable, more particularly as its use is to quiet and relax the tension of overwrought nerves. The Bitters are invaluable in rheumatism, neuralgia and kidney troubles. Employ no substitute for it.

Catarrh, Hay or Rose Fever.

The cleansing, soothing and healing properties of Darby's Prophylactic Fluid are experienced in the treatment and cure of Catarrh and kindred complaints. The Fluid soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and removes the offensive odor that characterizes the disease. Should the inflammation have reached the throat use the Fluid as a gargle to allay the inflammation and to n

Dr. Henley's Celery, Beef and Iron.

This great nerve tonic has gained its reputation through the marvelous results it has given. It is known to have cured where other remedies have failed. It counteracts the ruinous effects caused by excessive use of tobacco, cigars and liquors. It builds up the debilitated and restores them to new life and vigor. Having among its ingredients the greatest nervine of the age, it cures all nervous disorders, such as neuralgia, nervousness, sleeplessness and nervous headaches. Celery, combined with the blood-giving properties, Beef and Iron, serve to cure dyspepsia, indigestion, loss of appetite. It is a great help to young girls turning into womanhood. It gives them blood and strength. Thousands of women were benefited by the use of this tonic.

RELATIVE VALUES

A yard of Gingham at 6 cents is far better value that a yard of 40-inches wide Cashmere at 25 cents, provided the Gingham is good quality and the Cashmere is not. Simply because merchandise is advertsed as cheap does not make it worth buying, or a great bargain when bought. Merchandise adverttsed as "cheap" may be "cheap" indeed, not only in price but in quality. As a thing worth doing at all is worth doing well, the same care should be exercised in selecting goods. Buy them as cheaply as you can, but buy good material, and you will never be disappointed. In describing goods a wrong classification is a deception, and deception is roguery. Call it what you please, this fact still remains. Sometimes, under compulsion, a merchant puts the price of an article down to meet the prices of a successful competitor, and thereby becomes an imitator in the fullest sense. The purchasing public may rest assured that in each and every case where such a thing exists a wrong classification will be found. Whether you buy from us or not we advance this idea: Buy your merchandise when the quality, width and price are marked in plain figures; where no deception is permitted; and where the latest goods can be bought.

STAMPEDE OF BUFFALOES.

A Sight Once Seen Not Likely to be Ever Forgotten.

Did you ever see a stampede of buffaloes? No! Well, the man who has seen one and lived to tell of it, has witnessed a spectacle to be vividly remembered all his days. A stampede was a common occurrence in the life of every western hunter twenty years ago; but no one will ever look upon one again. The hide hunters haven't left a score of the animals alive.

During my time I have had several close shaves from stampedes, but a little the closest call I ever got was the means of saving my scalp. It was in 1867, and pretty near on the line of Kansas and Nebraska, at a point between the Republican and the Solomon rivers. There was a famous grazing ground for the buffalo, and there he was undisturbed except by the Indians, who killed only when they wanted meat. I have seen herds in that country which numbered up to a hundred thousand, and which covered the prairie as far as the eye could see.

What creates a stampede? Nothing—anything. While the buffalo is born in a wild state, and ought to get accustomed to storms, the sight of wolves, and all kinds of noises, he is the most timid animal on earth. I have seen the coming up of a dark cloud stampede 10,000 buffaloes. I have known the howl of a wolf to set a big herd in motion. A flash of lightning or a clap of thunder seemed to scare them half to death, although you would argue that they would get used to it. And once started, nothing but a mountain could turn the great wave aside, and only exhaustion would bring them back to their senses. After a herd had fairly started, terror seemed to take complete possession of them, and it was the devil seize the last one. Then it was woe to the pioneer or hunter who happened to be in their path without a grove to shelter him. I saw, in 1867, on the Loup Fork of the Platte river, an emigrant camp which had been run over by a stampede. There had been seven wagons and twenty-four people, with about thirty head of horses and cattle. The rushing, terror-stricken herd struck the camp just about daybreak, and was fifteen or twenty minutes passing. Only one human being escaped—a man who was carried off on the back of a buffalo and left at a spot ten miles away. Not an animal was left, not a vehicle escaped destruction. I saw the sight of the camp about noon of that day, and there wasn't a piece of any of the heavy wagons which I could not have carried off under my arm. The people had been tramped into the earth—annihilated—wiped out. The remains could scarcely be recognized as those of human beings.

But, as to my own adventure. There were four hunters of us in the locality spoken of, killing various kinds of game and doing a little trapping, and though there were plenty of redskins in that country, they did not get on to us for a week. We had our camp on a small run, or creek, with a grove of about a dozen trees for shelter, and about two miles to the north was a spring and another grove. The Indians hadn't got hold of Winchesters, and knew nothing of revolvers in those days, and a war party of less than twenty-five would have hesitated to have attacked four hunters. We kept our eyes open, however, and one was on the watch while the other three slept. We had been in camp nine or ten days, and constantly surrounded by buffaloes, when, one afternoon, just before sunset, it was apparent from the actions of the animals that something was in the wind. The detachments were consolidating, all stray bulls joining the herds, and almost every buffalo ceased feeding and acted anxious and ill at ease. That meant Indians. Curious as you may think it the presence of an Indian will disturb the buffaloes sooner than that of the white man. We couldn't say whether it was a war party hanging around to attack us or a hunting party hovering around on the flanks of the great herd, but we made all preparations that night to defend ourselves.

I have spoken of the second grove. It was composed of a few stunted cottonwoods, and was in no sense a shelter. Now this is what happened during the night. A war party of about thirty-five Indians took up their position in this little grove, calculating to sweep down on us at daylight and carry our camp by storm. Along toward daylight they mounted and rode softly down to within a quarter of a mile of us, and there waited for day to break. They would be observed by the sentinel, but would make a rush and carry the camp. Well, it was just coming day, and five minutes more would have discovered them to the sentinel, when the big herd, which had been gathering to the north of us, began a stampede. The sentinel heard them at the first start off, and roused us up, and by the time we had our guns in hand we could see the Indian war party. They knew what was up better than we did, but they were caught between two fires, and the chief was too slow-witted for the occasion. His policy should have been to charge us. He might have lost six or eight men, but the shelter of the grove would have saved the rest and given them our scalps to boot. He might not have known our strength, and so, after spending the valuable minutes in reflection, he ordered the party off to the left. The only hope they could have was in riding across the face of the herd, but that was out of the question. The front covered, as we afterward knew, a distance of seven miles, and the Indians had barely got started when the first buffaloes were in sight. They came thicker than bees, their heads down, horns rubbing, and their feet making a great clatter, and while we looked we saw the war party swallowed up in that great heaving sea of animal life. A moment later an old bull dashed into and through the grove and every man sprang for a tree. As I was climbing up my feet struck a buffalo on the back, and before I was secure only the five largest trees in the grove were standing. All others had been uprooted by contact, and three crippled animals were lying on the ground beneath me. Our horses, camp and everything went in two minutes. The noise was ten times more deafening than a hurricane at sea, and the terror of the animals was something appalling.

I have told you that the front of the herd was seven miles across. You can judge what the depth must have been when I tell you that they were three hours in passing. Every animal was running for his life, and his pace could not have been less than ten miles an hour. I shouldn't hesitate to make affidavit that the herd was a good thirty miles deep. The animals, as we afterwards knew, ran fully forty miles before they slowed down at all. When the last one had passed us the country around us was a sight to behold. There were at least 150 dead or crippled animals in sight, and there was a swath seven miles wide, which had cut the very life out of the prairie. Of all our camp equipage we could not find one solitary article of wood, or iron, or leather. All our horses had been trampled under within less than a mile of the grove, and their bodies were sights no one could look at twice. We spread out to see what had befallen the Indians, and we did not have to go far. They had been knocked down and stamped to the earth. A member of the same tribe, with whom I talked a year later, told me that not one survived, and the loss almost demoralized the tribe.—[Exchange.

A CHOICE INVESTMENT!

The Celebrated Barton Ranch of 1150 Acres

At Old San Bernardino.

Conceded by all to be the CREAM of the orange growing section in Southern California, has been purchased by a syndicate of capitalists and well known business men. They have incorporated, with a capital of $500,000,

The Barton Land and Water Company.

THE LOCATION of this magnificent property cannot be excelled. REDLANDS, the town of phenomenal growth, joins it on the south, beautiful LUGONIA on the east, GLADESTA on the north, and SAN BERNARDINO, which is fast becoming a prominent railroad center, is only six miles west. The A. T. & S. F. R. R. is now building a line through this ranch, to be completed October 1st. The Southern Pacific is also locating its line two and a half miles through it, and a DUMMY ROAD from San Bernardino will be built as soon as the company can determine and locate the route. At a point where these three roads converge will be located

The Town of Barton.

THE WATER SUPPLY of this property cannot be excelled in all California. It has three separate water rights, either one of which is sufficient for all its requirements. THE CLIMATIC ADVANTAGES of this valley are unsurpassed, and are now attracting persons of weak lungs and throat troubles from all parts of the country. It has an altitude of 1600 feet, a dry atmosphere, and is free from disturbing winds.

One-half of the stock of this company has been taken by the incorporators, and a limited portion of the remainder will be sold on the following terms: 15 per cent cash and 25 per cent on or before September 1st, when the stock certificates will be issued. The character of the incorporators is a guarantee that this is a safe and desirable investment.

The sale of stock will begin on SATURDAY, AUGUST 13, at the offices of W. P. McINTOSH, No. 122 North Spring street, and DAY, HINTON & MATHES, No. 8 North Spring street.

INCORPORATORS: A. B. CHAPMAN, President; W. P. McINTOSH, Vice-President; CHAS. E. DAY, Treasurer; JOSEPH HARDIE, Secretary; H. M. BARTON, B. S. HAYS, SAMUEL MANSFIELD, J. W. MATTICE, JAMES SMITH, W. P. NORTHCROSS. au12 1m

FACTS ABOUT FULLERTON.

Fullerton is a town site on the San Diego division of the Santa Fé Railroad, twenty-three miles southwest of Los Angeles and three miles north of Anaheim. It is a regular station on that railway and all trains will stop there.

ADVANTAGES.

Fullerton has the most productive country tributary to it of any new town site laid out in Southern California; the country around is noted for its fertile soil and the great abundance of water. The water is derived from the Anaheim ditch, which, as is well known, is the most copious supply in Southern California. Oranges grow to the greatest perfection. The famous Gilman ranch adjoins the town site of Fullerton. The Gilman place is the "show" walnut grove in the State, visitors being taken there from all parts of the country and shown it as a sample of what can be done in the way of having a perfect walnut grove. Oranges and limes from this section are noted throughout the State as being the finest produced anywhere, and commanding the top market price.

Land in the vicinity of Fullerton is still at a very reasonable figure, as the country is comparatively little known, being at present out of the way of the general line of travel. With the advent of the Santa Fé Railroad, which is expected within ninety days, property will advance very materially, as it will then first be introduced to many seeking productive land at lower prices than that asked for in and about Pasadena.

OSTRICHES.

The original and largest ostrich farm is only one mile from the town, and is a great source of interest to tourists. One hundred ostriches may be counted.

COMMONWEALTH AVENUE

runs through the center of the town, one hundred feet wide and ten miles long. This will be one of the finest avenues in the Southern country. Lined with umbrageous shade-trees, and the soil is naturally adapted to road-making, packing as hard as asphalt, and never dusty or muddy.

ASPHALTUM.

Immense deposits of oil and asphaltum occur in the neighborhood.

PRICES OF LAND.

Ordinary land without water can be purchased for from $75 to $200 per acre; best land with water at $350 to $700 per acre, and there is but little doubt that all this land will sell readily at $1000 per acre within six months from date.

IMPROVEMENTS IN THE TOWN OF FULLERTON.

A $25,000 hotel is now in course of erection and will be finished within ninety days; two other $10,000 brick buildings are now contracted for and will be finished within the same time. A bank with $100,000 capital is incorporated, and will put up a $15,000 pressed-brick building immediately. Quite a number of houses are now in course of construction and many lots have been sold conditionally upon brick buildings being erected thereon immediately.

A cement sidewalk six feet wide is now being laid upon all the principal streets; water piped in heavy iron pipes and under good pressure through the streets.

PRICES OF LOTS.

Lots range in price from $150 to $700; all streets are graded and there is not an undesirable lot in the entire town site, as the ground is perfectly level, with a slight fall from the foothills.

SOIL.

The soil is a fine sandy loam which neither gets muddy nor dusty.

CLIMATE.

Fullerton being but eight eight miles from the ocean, gets the sea breeze much sooner than towns on the other side of the foothill, thus producing a low temperature in summer, and at the same time the proximity to the ocean causes a more equal and warmer temperature in winter.

Fullerton has the best soil, the best water, the best climate, the largest and most productive territory tributary to it, the best railroad facilities, and there is more cash being expended in it on permanent improvements than on any new town in Southern California.

For prices of town lots and acre property, inquire of WILSHIRE & CO.

Only thirty minutes' ride by rail from the city of Los Angeles, with trains to begin running every three hours in the day early in July. Property can be purchased now at a much lower figure than when railroad and steamships are brought together. Port Ballona has two main avenues, one 100 feet and one 80 feet wide, with all other streets 60 feet wide. Residence lots are 40x150, and business lots 25x100 and 25x150 feet. Coming to Los Angeles!

DR. LIEBIG & CO.,

SPECIAL PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS,
Of San Francisco.

The above well known and long established specialists will be at 33 NORTH MAIN STREET., Los Angeles, from september 10th to the 20th, 10 days only, where all who are suffering from nervous debility, chronic or complicated diseases, spermatorrhea, impoteney, loss of manhood, premature decay, and all complaints resulting from youthful folly, abuse and excesses of maturity, or badly treated cases of special or private nature, will be afforded the opportunity to consult with these celebrated specialists. Consultation free and private.

The Liebig Dispensary for the treatment of all chronic, private and complicated diseases has been established in San Francisco for nearly a quarter of a century. The Dispensary building occupies the entire corner of Geary and Mason streets, San Francisco, and is the only Medical and Surgical Institute on the Pacific coast that has its own elegant drug store in dispensary building, employing registered chemists and scientific surgical instrument makers to manufacture all surgical instruments for the patients of the Liebig Dispensary; also to prepare the celebrated Dr. Liebig's wonderful German Invigorator. To the marvelous cures and discoveries made by Dr. Liebig & Co. are due all the great successes they have had. In 1881 they discovered the complication Prostatorrhea, resulting from youthful imprudence and excesses of maturity, or unskillfully treated cases of a special nature, that from time immemorial had prevented thousands from being cured of nervous debility, physical weakness and unnatural losses from the system. Dr. Liebig & Co. use every successful remedial agent known to modern scientists favoring the school of Homeopathy and Eclecticism, taking from the Allopathic all that is useful, and adapting surgical instruments to the various ailments and deformities, attaching to appliances, magnetism and electricity. Successful treatment guaranteed in all cases or no fees required.

SURGICAL BRANCH.

The doctors will give personal attention to diseases of the Chest, Head and Throat, Catarrh, diseases of the Liver and Kidneys; also deformities requiring surgical appliances. Balance of treatment conducted from the Liebig Dispensary, San Francisco, Cal.

N.B.—On account of the rapidly increasing practice in San Francisco, this will be the doctor's last visit to Los Angeles.

DAILY HERALD.

A CANINE SOLDIER.

Bravery of a Dog that Fought and Died With the French.

During the wars of the Consulate of the First Empire, in 1798, a young dog, who apparently had no master, came, no one knew how, to Caen, France, and met there a company of grenadiers starting for Italy. Urged on, apparently by destiny, he followed them. He was to all appearance a regular street cur dirty and ugly, but he had such a bright expression and seemed so intelligent that they did not hesitate to take him. His new companions forced him to act as sentinel, to obey orders, to keep step, to become accustomed to the sound of firearms, to obey roll-call and all other duties the soldiers were called upon to perform. He received and ate his rations with them and lived in every respect as his regiment was commanded to do. In going to Italy Mustache crossed Saint Bernard at the cost of unknown hardships and encamped with the regiment above Alexandria. It was here that he was to accomplish his first great feat of arms. A detachment of Austrians hidden in the Valley of Balbo advanced in the night to surprise the grenadiers, and was heard by this vigilant dog as he was making his rounds. The soldiers were awakened by his barking. In a moment every one was on foot, and the enemy dislodged. To reward Mustache the colonel had his name inscribed on the regimental roll, and ordered that he should have every day the ration of a soldier. He ordered that there should be put on his neck a collar bearing the name of the regiment, and the barber was ordered to wash and comb him every week.

Sometime afterward there was a slight engagement in which Mustache conducted himself very bravely. He here received his first wound—a bayonet thrust in the shoulder. It must be said here that Mustache never was wounded except in front. About this time he quarreled with the grenadiers and deserted, because they had left him tied in the garrison. Taking refuge with a company of chasseurs he saw a disguised Austrian spy enter the French camp. Mustache, forgetting the insult he had received, welcomed the stranger by springing at his throat with much fierceness. This action astonished all at first, but they had time for reflection, and then remembered the sagacity of the faithful dog. The stranger was arrested, searched and found to be a spy.

Mustache continued the series of his exploits. At the battle of Austerlitz, seeing the color-bearer surrounded by enemies, he flew to his rescue, defended him as well as he could, and, when the soldier fell, pierced with bullets, enveloped in his colors, Mustache, seizing with his teeth that part of the glorious flag which he could get, fairly flew past the enemy and brought back to his company the blood-stained remnants. It must be said here that a charge of musketry had taken off one of his legs. This beautiful action merited honor. They took off the collar that he wore, and Marshal Lannes then ordered that they put on him a red ribbon, with a copper medal bearing this inscription on one side: "He lost a leg at the battle of Austerlitz, and saved the colors of his regiment." On the other side it read: "Mustache should be honored and beloved as a brave French dog." As it was easy to recognize him by his ribbon and medal, they decided that, in whatever regiment he should present himself, he should receive the portion of a soldier. He took part in several battles, and among others that of Essling (1809). He made with the dragoons two campaigns and the brave dog fought every time he had the opportunity. He always walked in front, on the alert, barking when he heard any noise and could not find out the cause. In the Sierra Morena mountains he brought back to camp the horse of a dragoon who had been killed. It is said that several times he showed this same act of intelligence. He made his last campaign with the artillery, and was killed at the battle of Badajoz, March 11, 1881, at the age of 12 years. They buried him on the spot where he fell, with his medal and his ribbon. On the stone which served as his monument they wrote, "Here lies Mustache." These simple words are more eloquent than the most pompous epitaph.—[Detroit Tribune.

DIAMOND DUST.

Record of Yesterday's Competitions—Some Good Games.

BOSTON, September 6.—Bostons, 4; Philadelphias, 10.

NEW YORK, September 6.—New Yorks, 6; Washingtons, 4.

DETROIT, September 6.—Detroit and Chicago game postponed on account of rain.

PITTSBURG, September 6.—Pittsburg, 7; Indianapolis, 2.

NEW YORK VS. WASHINGTON.

NEW YORK, September 6.—The New York and Washington teams played a seasaw, uninteresting game to-day. The feature of the play was Carroll's magnificent catch of Gores' play. Audience 3000.

Score: New York, 6; Washington,, 4.

BOSTON VS. PHILADELPHIA.

BOSTON, September 6.—Radbourne's poor pitching allowed Philadelphia to defeat the home team to-day. Casey pitched a fine game and was splendidly supported. The home team had to earn all the runs that they made. Score: Philadelphia 10, Boston 4.

PITTSBURG VS. INDIANAPOLIS.

PITTSBURG, September 6.—Pittsburg won to-day's game in the first three innings, and after that the only interest was to see the rain hold off until five innings had been played. The feature of the game was a fine running catch by Dalrymple. Score: Pittsburg 7, Indianapolis 2.

A BATTERY FOR THE DETROITS.

PHILADELPHIA, September 6.—The arbitration board of the league and association has decided that Pitcher Beatin and Catcher Kinslow properly belong with the Detroit club. The contract was disputed by the Cincinnatis.

THE SYNDICATE'S SELECTION.

Spencer to be President of the Baltimore and Ohio.

BALTIMORE, September 6.—The American this morning says: "Samuel Spencer has been selected by the syndicate to succeed President Garrett, of the Baltimore and Ohio road. Spencer is the present First Vice-President of the road.

WHY HE WAS APPOINTED.

Not only did his ability as a manager and his work in connection with the road commend him, but when he conducted the negotiations which ended in the contract, the syndicate became so thoroughly impressed with his qualifications that it took only a short time to agree upon him as Garrett's successor. The choice of Spencer is with Garrett's full concurrence and approval.

FIRE AT PORTLAND.

$15,000 Worth of Damage to a Public School Building.

PORTLAND, Ogn., September 6.—This afternoon the Morrison street public school building was discovered in flames. Notwithstanding that the fire department arrived very promptly at the scene and used the most strenuous exertions, the flames spread so rapidly as to involve the entire upper portion of the building in less than ten minutes. The fire was finally subdued after an obstinate resistance, but not until the whole roof and upper story of the structure were destroyed or badly damaged. The origin of the fire is unknown, but it is supposed to have started from the furnace. The building has not been occupied for over two months owing to the annual vacation. Several men were employed in cleaning out the rooms of the large building when the fire was first discovered. The building cost over $30,000; insurance, about $17,500; estimated actual damage, $15,000.

THE RECENT RAIN.

Probabilities of its Effect on the Vineyards.

SAN FRANCISCO, September 6.—The rooms of the Viticultural Commission were crowded to-day with vineyardists discussing the changes made possible by the rain. It seemed to be the opinion that if the rain is of short duration and followed by a succession of warm sunny days, no damage will be done, but if the sky is overcast and remains wet long the Zinfandel and others will begin to rot.

BOOTS AND SHOES.

A Manufactory to be Started at Santa Cruz.

SANTA CRUZ, September 6.—A citizens' meeting was held at the court house this evening to discuss the question of establishing a boot and shoe factory in this city. The proposition is favored by prominent local capitalists and business men have promised substantial aid. The company will be incorporated with $50,000 capital. A committee was appointed to secure subscriptions.

BIG WHEAT SALE.

Four Thousand Tons to Be Disposed of To-day.

SAN FRANCISCO, September 6.—Wheat circles are somewhat excited to-day by an advertisement that 4000 tons of No. 1 Calif wheat are to be sold at public auction to-morrow afternoon without reserve to the highest bidder. This wheat comprises a lot on which one of the local financial institutions has loaned money.

Weather Prospects.

SAN FRANCISCO, September 6.—Indications for twenty-four hours, commencing at 8 P. M. September 6: For California, fair weather in the southern portion and light local rains in the northern portion.

German Catholic Convention.

CHICAGO, September 6.—The first German Catholic Convention for which the Catholic Central Union have been preparing three days, met to-night in the battery of the armory. There were over 5000 people present.

A Telegraph Line to Venezuela.

WASHINGTON, September 6.—The Department of State has received a copy of the recent contract made for the establishment of telegraphic communication between Venezuela and the United States.

Ryan to Fight Burke.

SAN FRANCISCO, September 6.—A fight has been definitely arranged between Paddy Ryan and Jack Burke, the match to take place near this city and as soon as both men undergo proper training.

A PLANNED ROBBERY.

The Plot Defeated—Disgraceful Details.

Last night about 12 o'clock a telephonic message was sent from Mother Brown's to the police office for the service of an officer at the corner of Commercial and Alameda streets. Officer Gilbert immediately went to the place and there met Mother Brown and a girl named Florence Wilson, formerly an artist on Second street.

Florence told the officer the following story: She was sent for by a messenger boy from the Old Arlington to come up there, as a man wanted to see her. She went up to the house and ascended the stairs, where she met the woman who keeps the house and the night watchman, who told her there was a man in room No. 12 from Texas with $600 and a diamond pin, and that if she would go in and during the night rob him and divide the "swag" with them it would be all right. She entered the room and locked the door and found a man apparently the worse for liquor, in the bed. She asked him who he was, and he said his name was Bob, but would give no other name. Then she told him that she was informed that he had $600 and a diamond-pin, and that she had been requested to come there for the purpose of robbing him while asleep, but informed him that her conscience would not permit her to do such a deed. About this time the manager of the house, hearing the conversation inside that upset the plan of robbery, burst the door open and hustled her down stairs. She then went to Mother Brown's and had the telephone sent for an officer. In company with the officer she then went to the Arlington, where he demanded to see the proprietor, but was denied the privilege. He then demanded entrance to No. 12, but was denied, but when Miss Wilson told the officer that she had left some of her apparel therein when she was hustled out, he opened the door, and she asked Bob if she didn't tell him that she was requested to come in and rob him of $600 and a diamond pin, and that she told him that they had sent for the wrong girl and her conscience would not permit her to do any such thing. Bob admitted that she had so stated, and further that he still held the $600 and the diamond pin, so that the girl cannot be accused of robbery. The officer and the girl then retired and left Bob to the peculiar care and attention of the managers of the Arlington. The case is peculiar.

BOARD OF EDUCATION.

The Purchase of Sites and Erection of Buildings.

The Board of Education met last night, President Dr. Kurtz in the chair and Mrs. A. S. Averill, C. P. Thurston, F. S. Graham and Superintendent W. M. Friesner present. There were also a number of gentlemen present representing property in various portions of the city besides others interested in the selection of locations for the new school buildings in the various parts of the city. The first part of the evening was spent in talking over different pieces of land which it was possible to obtain for reasonable rates, but in the majority of cases no conclusion was reached. Upon enquiry it was found that the money to be derived from the bonds will be under the direction of a Commissioner, who when appointed will consult with the Board in its expenditure.

The committee on building reported that it had examined into the Ninth street schoolhouse and site and had found that lots 1, 2, 3 and 4, of block G, of Mrs. Fitzgerald's tract, could be purchased from Mrs. Fitzgerald for the purpose desired for $4800, the price being $1200 less than the regular price charged for adjoining lots. The committee therefore recommended that the lots mentioned be purchased. It also recommended that the following schools be erected at once or as soon as the sites are secured. High School, Ninth street, Pearl street, Diamond street, Brooklyn Heights and Montgomery avenue. The committee also recommended that these schools be built before the next term opens. Mrs. Averill was instructed to ask permission on behalf of the Board from the Supervisors to purchase sites for new schoolhouses.

It was also moved and carried that the Board of Supervisors be requested to make the apportionment of $5 for each child, instead of $4, as formerly.

The resignation of Miss Jessie Gibson was received and accepted.

Applications from several parties for positions as teachers in the department was read, and referred to the Committee on Teachers.

It was announced the schools would open on October 3rd.

The Board then adjourned until Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

ORGAN CONCERT.

Mr. Eddy's Recital at the First Baptist Church.

As was expected the organ recital by Mr. Clarence Eddy drew a large and cultured audience to the First Baptist Church last evening. Mr. Eddy who hails from Chicago has in the brief time he has been in this city acquired the name of being a skilled and accomplished musician, and this reputation was certainly well sustained last night. He received valuable assistance from Mr. C. G. St. Clair, who presided at the piano, Mr. H. E. Hamilton, a recent arrival from Boston, with the violin, while Miss Jennie Winston of Pasadena with her sweet soprano voice, made the vocalization part of the programme very pleasing and interesting.

The entertainment opened by the performance on the organ by Mr. Eddy of Guilmant's "Sonata in D minor No. 1," which was very effectively rendered, and was succeeded by Miss Winston, who sang Stradella's "Pieta Signore" in a manner that won for her a deserved encore. Mr. Hamilton with his violin treated some Scotch airs with great skill, and in response to the plaudits of the audience gave "Starboard Watch, Ahoy." With the exception of another song, Gounod's Sing, Smile, Slumber, by Miss Winston, the remainder of the programme was devoted to Mr. Eddy's numbers, in each of which he acquitted himself in a masterly manner. The charming gavotte from Mignon, Mendelssohn's "Spring Song," Gounod's "Funeral March of a Marionette," Bach's sublime fugue in G. minor, Wagner's "Vorspiel to Lohengrin" and the pilgrims' chorus from Tannhaeuser by the same author—all were rendered in a manner that excited the admiration of the most critical auditor, and the entertainment closed with Flotow's overture to Stradella, amid the dying strains of which a well contented audience slowly departed from the commodious building.

It is now pretty generally conceded that Officer John Fletcher will be the Captain of Police. Fletcher has been on the force for a number of years, has the confidence of all who know him, and will make a Captain of whom Chief Darcy may well be proud.

Mr. Louis Mendelson, of San Juan Capistrano, is in the city en route to Berkeley, where he will resume his studies at the State University. Louis is a student of bright promise, and his friends have great hopes of him gaining the valedictory this year.

California Inventors.

WASHINGTON, September 6.—Patents have been granted to Benjamin F. Parks, of Fresno, for a combined plow and seeder, and Jno. G. Chapman, of Downey, for an automatic stop for windmills.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

A Review of the Day's Transactions.

NEW YORK, September 6.—Stocks are active and irregular. A late advance and high figures at the opening tempted holders to realize and the bears made a vigorous attack. They were aided by the reports of rate cutting in the southwest. Rates for money were bid to 7 per cent. Vanderbilt and coalers were well supported, and the Canadian Southern was remarkably strong, being the only stock showing a material advance. In the early dealings prices gave way under heavy offerings. About 1 o'clock a decided weakness was shown and at 2 o'clock the lowest prices of the day were reached. After the delivery hour extensive covering and buying for long account took place, causing a material reaction, Canada Southern' Western Union Telegraph and Reading being the most conspicuous. The close was strong and the majority of the active list is lower. Manhattan is down 4¾ and Northern Pacific 1 point. Canada Southern is up¾.

Government bonds are dull and heavier.

DAILY HERALD.

HORNED SNAKES.

Strange Stories of the Reptile Peculiarities in Georgia.

Taylor Strickland, an intelligent colored man, was telling to-day about the big snake that he and James Tuttle killed a few days ago in Kelley's bottom, near here. It was one of the species known as the bull or horned snake, resembling in color the rattlesnake, and nearly seven feet in length. It had a large, bull-like head, a slender neck, and on the end of its tail a sharp horn two inches or more long.

At sight of us, he said, it threw itself into an angry coil, with head up, ready for battle.

"But that is not the first snake of that kind I ever saw. Years ago, before the war, when I was a boy living with old Mass'er Strickland, we killed one during wheat harvest. The cradlers, on going to dinner, left their cradles in the shade of a large mulberry tree, and when we returned an enormous snake of this kind was found with his horn buried in the body of the tree, unable to free itself. The leaves of the tree had already withered and the tree died. Its stump is still there, and you can see it any time."

"Dis snake," remarked an old darkey, "muser had er power o' fun in de pas' twenty-five years. He muser mos' split his sides laffin at dis nigger runnin' one time. I wuz in dar huntin' er stray calf, when I hear sumfun blow. De noise made me feel sorter lonesome like, when all er sudden it blow off er gin, den I see dat snake gittin' down torde' wha I wuz; right den I fo'med de quickk'us 'pinion I ever did. It wur a kase of 'mergency, and I incited dat 'mergency. It wuz er time for prayer und speed. My legs never did work better nor dey did on dat kasion. Spec I run more n or mile er minit, und ef't hadn't bin fur de creek he'd kotch me sho nuf. It was wide und deep dar, but I made one spring und jis touch to top o' de water und made anoder spring und landed on de odder side. Spec de watter changed he mind, for I see no mo o' Mr. Snake atter dat."

"I remember seeing one of those snakes," said Uncle Ed Davenport, who is a recognized oracle of incidents in the far-away past. "It was about noon of a hot June day that I was riding along between Warsaw and the State bridge, in what was then Forsyth county, but is Wilkes now, when some distance ahead I noticed an object stretched across the road, which on nearer approach I found to be a very large snake, apparently dead, with a little king snake wrapped 'round just back of the head. Each was perfectly motionless, and for a time I sat there watching them, until becoming tired I dismounted, and walking up to them tapped the little snake with my riding switch. It instantly uncoiled and crawled away a short distance. Curious to see the result, I stepped into the shade and sat down to watch. The king snake cautiously returned to within a few feet of the other, and flattened down to await movements of the larger; it hadn't long to wait. Soon the large snake began to show signs of life, its body moved, it swelled out a little, then slowly raised its head. Quicker it seemed than it would take one to bat his eye, like a flash the king snake was around it in the exact place, choking out its life. That evening my partner in passing saw the larger snake dead, seeming that the king snake had done just what it seems their mission to do—killed the poisonous one. From the stumpy appearance of its tail I judged it to have been the horned snake with the horn broken off."

"The king snake is an interesting character in the reptile kingdom," remarked a drummer. "Years ago I had a friend who was interested in developing some coal fields on the Black Warrior, in Alabama. One day they came into a den of poisonous snakes. The place seemed a reptile paradise. The hill was full of coal, but to stand on a moccasin, with a copperhead behind and a rattler before, placed coal at too great a discount to make it profitable. An old sand mountain citizen came forward and offered to take the contract of destroying for a five dollar bill, and only twenty-four hours' time to do it in, providing a quart of whisky was produced to sorter cheer him up. The bargain was closed and the sand-hiller left. The next evening when my friend visited the place he was horrified to see 198 venomous reptiles lying not a dozen feet from their tools which a half dozen of the king snakes had crushed the life out of.—[Atlanta Constitution.

A COOL MAN.

Some Peculiar Incidents in the Life of Old Cy Weathersby.

"I see," said Colonel Boland, as he tried to make a ring out of tobacco smoke which would last till it got to the ceiling, "that some of the papers are talking about instances of coolness and bravery in the early history of the Territory."

"I noticed it," replied Judge Persimmon.

"Well, old Cy Weathersby, out at Pierre, used to be a cool one."

"Is that so?"

"Yes; right at the side of his bed was a window, the bottom of which was just on a level with his bed as he lay there. One day he heard that some fellows were going to gather on the opposite side of the street and shoot him through his window after he had gone to sleep."

"He moved his bed, I suppose?"

"Not much. He simply sawed about six inches off each leg of the bedstead, which let it down below the window a little, rolled in and went to sleep. The boys blazed away through the window and broke his wife's arm in two places. Old Cy never woke up till morning.

"Was he always as cool as that?"

"Usually. One day he was going into a saloon and met a fellow with a double-barreled shotgun. The fellow shoved the muzzle under his nose and says he: 'Smell o' that!' Old Cy sniffed at it a couple of times and then says: 'I don't smell nothin' peculiar.' 'W'y, ye infernal fool,' yelled the man, 'I mean I'm goin' to blow the whole head right off of ye!' 'O, thunder!' said Cy; 'that's it, is it? What made ye fool me 'bout the smellin'?' It disgusted the fellow so that he went out and shot himself instead of old Cy."

"Any other instances?"

"Yes. One evening just after dark he was sitting in a rocking-chair by the open door smoking, when he saw a man sneaking along behind the fence with a gun. Just then his wife came into the room and old Cy said: 'My dear, won't you take the rocking-chair here by the cool o' the door?' He got up just as deliberate as you please, and she hadn't more than sat down till the fellow blazed away and mowed all her back hair off. Old Cy was always very thoughtful that way about his wife. Once they nominated him for the Legislature and a big crowd went up with a band to serenade him and get him to make a speech. He thought the boys were after him again, and he stepped to the door and said: 'Gentlemen, you'll have to excuse me, my wife always 'tends to these matters!' Then he bowed and went out in the kitchen and told her another woman was going past with an Eastern bonnet on, and she rushed out and got all the music, and bowed and thanked them and threw kisses to the Chairman, and then the crowd went back and nominated another man. This mistake made old Cy feel pretty blue for a long time, and finally he pined away and died thinking about it. But I tell you he was a cool one while he lived."—[Dakota Bell.

MURDERED IN MEXICO.

The Assassination of Leon M'L. Baldwin near Ventanas.

Letters received from the Ventanas mines in Mexico convey particulars concerning the dastardly assassination of Leon McLeod Baldwin, a well-known citizen of this city, and reveal an incredible state of affairs even for Mexico. The mines are located about one hundred miles from Mazatlan, in the State of Durango, and are very valuable. Recently a band of outlaws appeared in the district, and now have things their own way. They openly state that they intend to kill every foreigner in that part of the country, and have already murdered three Americans. Last March they killed a man named Smith, living on a ranch. A man named Blanche was their next victim, on the 23d of last June, and Mr. Baldwin was their last. The circumstances of his assassination are as follows:

On the 19th of August he started to inspect one of the group of mines of which he was superintendent, known as the Valenciana. He arrived about 10 A. M., and just as he alighted from his mule two men, armed with Winchester rifles, arose from behind some rocks and fired at him, one shot striking him in the right shoulder, passing through it, and breaking the shoulder blade, so that his right arm was rendered useless. He succeeded in drawing his pistol with his left hand, and ran into a tunnel which was near at hand. The assassins were afraid to follow him, but made prisoners of the five unarmed miners who were there. They then threatened the miners that if they did not bring Mr. Baldwin out of the tunnel they would shoot them. The foreman went into the tunnel and told his employer what the bandits had said. Mr. Baldwin directed the foreman to go out and try and find out what they wanted, that if it was money they wanted he had only $55 with him, but that his company would pay a reasonable ransom for his release. The blood-thirsty scoundrels finally agreed not to harm the wounded man any more and said they would fix the sum of money for his ransom. Mr. Baldwin then came out of the tunnel and mounted his mule, but as he was so weak from the effects of his wounds that he could not guide the animal, they took a boy from the mine to lead, threatening the miners that if they followed them they would be shot. Shortly after the departure of the party the miners heard five shots, and upon going down the road they found Mr. Baldwin lying dead with a bullet through the brain. The robbers had departed taking the boy with them, since which time nothing has been heard of him.

This murder occurred within two miles of the town of Ventanas. Although this band of outlaws have been operating around the town for several months, and their haunts are very well known to the authorities and soldiery, very little exertion is made to catch them. In fact, the scoundrels go into the town and openly boast of their murderous deeds.

Mr. Baldwin was identified with the mining interests of this coast for the past twelve years. In 1875 he was Superintendent of the California Mill Company at Virginia City and was Assistant Superintendent of the Justice mine. Previous to his departure for Mexico he was Assistant Assayer in the United States Mint of this city. He was also at one time owner of the Los Feliz ranch, near the city of Los Angeles, and has a brother, General John M. Baldwin, living in that city. He leaves a widow, the daughter of the late Mrs. Anna Key Turner, and a young son about fifteen years old. Mr. Baldwin was the son of Dr. John M. Baldwin, who was murdered by an Englishman, named Hetherington, in the pioneer days, who was afterward hanged by the Vigilance Committee. He was born in New Orleans, La., and was forty-five years old. He was a highly educated and pure-minded gentleman with many admirable traits of character.

The above graphic account from the San Francisco Bulletin of the death of this distinguished gentleman will be read with much sorrow by old Angeleños, to whom Mr. Baldwin was well known. He lived on the Los Feliz ranch for a long time, and no citizen of the county bore a higher reputation than he did, nor was better or more deservedly beloved by all who had any relations with him. His brother, General Baldwin, still one of us, has the warmest sympathies of the universal people of this section.

The delay was something over an hour.

The Cheapest Lands in Pasadena

The reservoir, to cost about $10,000, on the Raymond Improvement Company Tract, in front of the Raymond Hotel, is being constructed, and it is having the effect of creating a boom in the lands surrounding the Hotel. The Raymond Improvement Company has its first subdivision ready, and they offer the cheapest lots in Pasadena for sale. The lots are selling very fast. Smith & Jacobs, who are the shrewdest speculators in Pasadena, purchased 115 lots on this tract at one time, last week. They propose to build houses and mark up the lots to about double the Company's present prices, and purchasers may look for a general marking up in a short time. Fair-Oaks avenue is to be widened to an 80-foot street, and Smith & Jacobs intend to build a handsome business block. Four elegant cottages already contracted for. An electric road, from Los Angeles to this tract, is under headway, and this Company has also agreed to give the right of way and a bonus to another road which will run from the Raymond Hotel through their land, to Long Beach. Apply to Raymond Improvement Company, Room 10, Los Angeles National Bank Building, corner First and pring streets.

To this train there will probably be added three more carloads from Chicago and Kansas City, making nine carloads, all of which will be due in Los Angeles next Monday evening.

Mr. Jerry Illich, the popular restauranteur, has lately branched out into new lines of business, and bids fair shortly to become a miller and a vigneron. He purchased the other day, for $27,000, fifty-two acres of vineyard, which surround the old Puente mill. This property is beautifully located about half a mile east of the old Temple homestead, commands an exquisite view of the whole range of the San Gabriel Valley and environing mountains, and possesses a water-power which will be invaluable for manufacturing purposes some day. Mr. Illich invited a select party of friends to partake of lunch on his new acquisition yesterday, and it is needless to say that he presided over the well-loaded board with his customary grace. Jerry has got hold of a capital bargain, and whether he reserves it for the ample income his mill and thrifty vineyard will yield him, or succumbs to the temptation to sell at an advance, he cannot fail to come out largely ahead. The seventy-five inches of water which go with the ranch, alone count up in the dollars and cents.

STREET GRADING.

Difficulty in Obtaining Bids for the Work.

The matter of advertising for bids for work to be done on the streets in the matter of grading, in other papers than those in this city is being seriously considered by the City Council. On Monday last there were about twenty streets on which bids were invited and of these only three received attention at the hands of the contractors. This is only a fair sample of the way in which the advertisements have been answered for some time past, and as the winter is coming on it is thought necessary to advertise in San Francisco papers and ask contractors to come here and do the work. It was also suggested, that the Board of Public Works invite contractors to appear before it and to try and induce them to bid. It was agreed that something should be done and that matters should not be allowed to run along as has been the case. There is a good deal of grading already listed to be done and from indications there will be considerable more before very long. The list of streets to be graded is fast enlarging in size and an effort will be made to reduce it to something like what it should be. Why don't some of our contractors make a bid on these streets. There is work to be done and there should be people to do it.

The Grand Opera House.

The Royal Spanish Troubadours gave their second performance at the Grand last night. There was a complete change of programme greatly appreciated by the audience. There will be a matinee this afternoon, and the troupe will close their engagement this evening. At both performances there will be a change of programme from beginning to end.

Messrs. E. J. McCullough, representing Emerson's Minstrels, and Jas. H. Love, business manager of the same combination, are in the city preparing for next week. It is well known among the play-goers of Los Angeles that the inimitable Billy will appear on the boards at the Grand all next week.

REAL ESTATE.

COMBINATION LAND COMPANY.

SPECIAL No. 1.

Bernardo—Who comes here?

Horatio—Friends to this ground!

Marcellus—And liegemen to the Dane.

Hamlet, Act I., Scene 1.

We beg leave to introduce ourselves to your present and prayerful consideration. We have secured this column in the HERALD for one year. During that year we shall pay the HERALD for printing these specials. At the end of the year we expect that the HERALD will pay us for the privilege of publishing them. We shall continue each advertisement usually for a week, sometimes not more than three days, occasionally the same matter may be printed for ten days, never longer, for the public abhors chestnuts.

Our purpose is to try and sell real estate, not on commission—that is, not in the ordinary sense. The lands that from time to time we may offer for sale, will be lands in the sale of which we will have something more and dearer than a broker's interest, that is dearer to the vendor, not dearer to the purchaser. In offering properties we shall endeavor to lift advertising out of the dreary and in some instances the driveling ruts into which it has fallen, and thus deserve well of the reading public. Jerry Black—a master of vigorous English—was accustomed to say that "the reading of newspapers is benumbing to the intellect." This if not always true of the editorial and news columns, is abundantly true of the advertising department. In the presence of columns of display type, and columns of dry phrasing, and columns compounded of gush and yawp, the average reader becomes so prostrated that he forgets what it is all about: he has a confused idea that somebody has for sale an orange grove adjoining Temple Block, and somebody else wants three thousand dollars a foot for a brownstone orchard with a plate glass front, three miles from the city limits, and so to cool off his half-cremated brain and take the taste of bad English out of his mouth, he actually reads one of Jo Lynch's editorials.

Southern California is supposed just now to have a boom, and a condition of affairs which justifies such rents as are asked for the rookeries which disgrace the block bounded by First, Second, Spring and Main streets does seem to be a little inflated, but it is only a seeming after all. In fact, the boom is only beginning, for as we write these lines, there are a hundred thousand people east of the Rocky mountains, who are packing their Lares and Penates (Lares and Penates, friends, are not lunch baskets, but household gods) and preparing to skip away from blizzards and pneumonia, and seek these golden shores.

What do you suppose will be the effect on a tenderfoot as he rides on a January morning into the lush and perfume of Southern California, and beholds the sunny south of his boyhood, the New Jerusalem of his theology, Hesperides of his classics, all combined in an actuality of golden orchards and flower bespangled lawns? Do we not know what the effect will be? Why before the dust is washed from his face, and while the ill-cooked and besmeared food of his first-class hotel yet mangles in his "innards," he will bie him to the nearest real estate office to purchase a piece of this Paradise. And he will write back to his friends in the East and advise them also to come, and they will follow his advice, and so the tide of immigration will flow and flow with never a refluent wave, and values will climb and climb, as does the hunter with an unloaded rifle when there is a tree handy and a grizzly bear close at hand.

Our purpose is to help these wealthy emigrants to health and happiness by helping them to the ownership of lands in Los Angeles and San Bernardino and San Diego and Baja California, and even as far north as Ventura and beyond. We draw the line only at Oakland. Although we are a corporation yet we have a conscience, and we will not eulogize a place where they fasten Riverside oranges with giant cement to scrub oak trees, and grope their way through the fog to the ferryboats, wheezing out lies about Los Angeles.

We will shortly have two splendid properties to place on the market. One is a new seaside city on the California Southern road, a gem of a place. The workmen are now busy grading the avenues, laying water pipes and building a railroad station and bathhouses.

The other is a beautiful valley one hundred and fifty thousand acres in Baja California. The railroad engineers are now at work planting stakes for the railroad which will shortly connect our southern neighbor with ourselves. These lands are incomparably fertile and abundantly watered and the climate is matchless. They will be offered for about one-fifth the price of similar lands in California. Wait a little.

The Combination Land Company.

Office will be announced as soon as we secure one.

CATARRH.

THE TERM CATARRH IS APPLIED TO A peculiar disorder of the nostrils and adjacent parts, which prevails to an alarming extent, and is productive of very serious consequences.

The most prominent and characteristic feature is a morbid discharge from the head, varying in its nature at different times.

In some there is an almost constant flow of clear, acrid fluid, but oftener an offensive, purulent or muco-purulent, greenish-yellow matter is secreted, which accumulates in the nostrils or drops into the throat, necessitating its frequent removal by blowing the nose or expectoration, and often by both processes. Sometimes patients feel as though their head was in a state of rottenness, so great is the amount of matter discharged and so fetid is its odor. The patient is greatly annoyed by the constant dropping into the throat of the morbid matter from the head, and as a recumbent position naturally favors the flow downward his rest is frequently disturbed from this cause. Many sufferers are obliged to lie with the head very much elevated in order to sleep with some degree of comfort.

In others a tough, viscid and offensive phlegm collects behind and above the soft palate, in the recesses between the throat and head, adhering to the parts with gluish tenacity. Its lodgment embarrasses respiration and creates a sensation of irritation and uneasiness in the affected locality, which gives rise to a constant and almost irresistible desire to relieve that discomfort by drawing the mucus into the throat so as to eject it by the mouth. This practice, popularly known as "hawking," is characteristic of catarrh, and proves as embarrassing to the one affected as it is disagreeable to those around him.

Again, the offensive matter hardens and deposits itself on the membrane in the shape of dry, hard concretions, which are discharged by way of the nostrils or throat in lumps or fragments of a deep green tint. In some cases these incrustations accumulate to such an extent as to form a regular plug in the nose, which obstructs breathing and produce serious discomfort. So firmly do these incrustations adhere to the point of attachment that their removal usually requires the most violent efforts; not unfrequently they have to be torn from the membrane. Occasionally a solid cast of notable size is expelled, on which there are generally traces of blood, but in some cases the cast presents a tubular appearance, being of exact shape of the nasal cavity. This condition is indicative of ulceration, which, in time, may destroy the bony structure of the nose and produce a subsequent flattening of that organ.

Cases are occasionally met with in which a thick, viscid, slimy secretion coats the membrane of the nasal cavities and then putrefies, giving rise to a stench which is really overpowering, and sufficiently fetid to poison the atmosphere of a whole room; and there are others in which all the secretions of the membrane are suspended, causing an unpleasant feeling of dryness, heat and feverishness in the head and nose—a condition popularly known as "Dry Catarrh."

The disease speedily extends to the air cavities of the bones of the forehead and face, giving rise to a distressing sensation of heavy weight or compression over the forehead, especially in the region above and between the eyes, and to a feeling of fulness, heat, irritation, soreness or pain in the nostrils near the root of the nose, as well as in the upper part of the throat, above and behind the soft palate. Sometimes there is pain obstinately fixed in some particular part, as in the temple, on the top of the head, at the back of the neck, or behind the orbits, and, occasionally, pain manifests itself in the face of so severe a character that it is frequently mistaken for neuralgia.

The breath is always tainted, and at times assumes an exceeding fetid and sickening odor. In some cases it becomes so revoltingly offensive as to render the sufferer an object of disgust to himself as well as to others.

The nasal membrane is thickened and conjested, causing the nose to be stopped up, sometimes on one side, sometimes on the other, and often on both, giving rise to a disagreeable, stuffy sensation in the head, and occasioning violent and prolonged paroxysms of sneezing.

The voice is weak, indistinct and husky, or of a nasal character, displaying a sort of sniffling quality. Oftentimes there is a continuous hoarseness and discordance. There is also a sense of irritation in the part, and frequent attempts to clear the throat of phlegm, producing the sound "hem," more or less forcibly. In some cases patients complain of an uncomfortable feeling of fullness, or a choky sensation in the throat, and in others of a distressing and almost constant dryness, for the temporary relief of which they have to swallow frequently. Others; again, speak of a constant bad or nauseous taste in the mouth or throat.

The stomach generally suffers more or less and becomes weak and irritable; the appetite is capricious and nearly always bad in the morning. The patient is languid, unable to perform mental or physical labor with the usual facility, is nervous, depressed in spirits, at times fearful, timid, agitated and inclined to drowsiness and sleep, the memory weakened and permanent impairment seriously threatened.

The mucous membrane soon becomes morbidly sensitive to unfavorable influences, and in spite of the utmost care becomes affected from the slightest causes, so that at last a breath of wind upon the lining of the nose or throat becomes productive of a cold, and gives rise to serious disturbances of the respiratory organs. Thus the patient is subject to frequent and repeated colds, each attack aggravating the disease by giving it a new impulse and involving a larger extent of surface than its predecessor. In this manner the difficulty spreads from organ to organ, invading the throat, larnyx, trachea and bronchial tubes, until, encroaching further and further, it reaches the finer ramifications of the bronchi, when but a slight impulse is required to send it to the lungs. Catarrh may, and often does, affect other organs in the body, especially those containing a mucous membrane, such as the stomach, bowels, kidneys, etc.

By the employment of proper inhalations in the form of medicated vapor (not steam or spray) we are able to produce immediate and direct action upon the diseased surface in the pharynx and nasal passages, for air will find its way into the most remote and intricate cavities, where it is utterly impossible to make fluid applications. By these means every case can be cured.

Persons desiring treatment by this system of practice can use the remedy at home as well as at our office, and which will cause no inconvenience or hindrance to business whatever.

I have seen so many of these cases cured that I do not consider any case hopeless unless the disease has advanced to the chest and that both lungs are seriously involved. Even then the inhalations aid us in dissolving the mucus and in contracting and healing the cavities, which nothing else can do with the same success. The very best references from those already cured.

CONSULTATION FREE.

Those who desire to consult with me in regard to their cases had better call at the office for consultation and examination, but, if impossible to do so, can write for a copy of my Medical Treatise, containing a list of questions. Address
